Yens, 1740

Commissaire Pierre Tissot

INDEX

1 Introduction

N. Jean Daniel Bikart, Conseigneur de Yens, is the son of the late Noble Daniel who was the son of Noble Volfgand Bikartt, Baillif of "Schallens" (Echallens). The "droitures seigneuriales riere Yens" came to Jean Daniel by succession from his father the late Daniel (testament reçu Egrege Mayor) and by the "donnation testamentaire" of his mother the late Noble Jaqueline Delavigny 16 may 1687 (Eg. Mayor).

New renovation of the extentes is made by the commissaire Tissot in the name of N. Jean Daniel Bikart and of Isaac and Gabriel Monod by succession from their mother Elizabeth Barbille D'Asperlin, daughter of the late N. Sbastian D'Asperlin and of N. Salomé De Lavigny, their maternal grandmother, and the said Sieurs Monod possess "indivisement" all the members of the fief hereafter designated with the said Noble Bikart, each for one half except for those dependent on Romainmotier, of which Bikart owns in his own right one half, and the other half is owned jointly among them, and the same for the Dixme...

This renovation follows the Pattente of Their Excellencies for the Renovation of the Bailliage of Aubonne of 03 apr 1723. The commissaire was appointed by a Covenant signed 08 oct 1735 by Bikart and by Isaac Monod. It was first intended to make a single volume, beginning in 1740. But "ensuite du Covenant fait entr'eux d'en faire la separation et partage", before 06 jan 1741, and the partages being suspended for some time, the decree of the property of the said Monod brothers came before the Cour Ballivale of Aubonne, at which time Bikart and N. Pierre Louys De Tavel Seigneur de Lussy purchased jointly "toutes les droitures seigneuriales des dits sieurs freres Monod riere Yens," by an act of 13 oct 1742, and the said Bikartt made a cession 09 feb 1743 to De Tavel of his half on the condition of following the partage that was made with the Monod brothers. This was finally executed 13 jul 1745, with the result that Bikart ended up with the "droitures seigneuriales" indicated below.

1. The ancient fief called Gruyere and its dependencies, with the charge of paying homage due to Their Excellencies in favor of the Chateau d'Aubonne...
2. The member of the fief from the Nobles De Lavigny.
3. The member of the fief from the Nobles De Vevey.
4. The half of the fief from Romainmotier, the Noble Bickart already possessing the other half in his own name, by purchase from Mr. Wourstemberguer, who had the right from Michon. The half of the Dixme with augmentations from the purchase of 1742, the other half already belonging to the Noble Bikart the same as the fief from Romainmotier/
5. The fief, cense, and jurisdiction on his house and on a part to the west from the Nobles Ferlin.
6. Four and a half feet on his courtyard on the west side, with barns etc.
7. On the courtyard indivise to the east of his house, etc., which Noble Bickart acquired 13 oct 1742 from the Monod brothers.

The Monod brothers had rights on the said fiefs from the Nobles Ferlin and from Cottens derived from the De Monterjaud, which reverted to Bikart by virtue of the partage of 13 jul 1745, except for the fief of Ferlin and the Cense and jurisdiction on the house etc. which Bikart purchased [separately]. Thus, the Monod brothers gave up their rights to lods and censes 13 oct 1742.

10 description of the fief

1. Gruyere: omnimode jurisdiction except for le dernier supplice, which belongs to the Chateau d'Aubonne, previously by N. Jaqueline and Salomé De Lavigny, sisters, the first the widow of N. Volfgang Bikartt, and the other the widow of N. Sebastian d'Asperlin, Seigneur de Bavois (1676, Eg. François Gaspard Bolens, marked GB), and before that by Jean Jaques Lavigny Sgr. de Berolle, father of the said Dames (1626, Eg. George Mennet), and before that by N. Jaques Ferlin and the nobles Nicolas and Emanuel sons of the late André Ferlin his nephews (1568, Eg. Jean Brisset), and before that by the Count of Gruyere, at that time the Baron of Aubonne (1506).
2. From the Nobles De Lavigny, previously by the above named Noble Dames De Lavigny (1676, Eg. Bolens, marked LB), and before that by N. Michel De Lavigny, Seigneur de Berolle (1604, Eg. Claude Pardat [perhaps the same as Pariat?]), and before that by the said N. De Lavigny (Eg. Etienne Favre, 1579), and before that by N. Sebastian and Louys Desevirier (Eg. P. Cuinssins).
3. Fief "de Vevey", previously by N. Jaqueline and Salomé de Lavigny (Eg. Bolens, 1676, marked VB), and before that by N. Vulliame de Vevey, bourgeois d'Estavayer, and his wife Marie De Lustrier, who held it by succession of Noble Jean de Yens (1552, Eg. Gabriel Begoz), the fief at that time indivis with the heirs of N. Marguerite daughter of N. Aimonet de Murs, and Alix wife of N. Rodet de Murs, brothers, of Grancy, and N. Jean son of the late N. Pierre de Yens, and this founded on a rental by Aimonet and Rodet de Murs, and their wives, and the N. Jean de Yens, to Jean Marion of Signy, by act of 1480, and this fief was shared by N. Jean Jaques de Lavigny, having rights against the De Murs, and by the Noble Marquis, having rights against the De Vevey etc., according to a partage between N. Bernard and Aaron Marquis, and the N. Jean François son of the late above named N. Jean Jaques De Lavigny 15 mar 1632 (Eg. Menet) but omitting two parcels... since rectified.
4. Fief "de Ferlin". Previously by the Noble Dames de Lavigny (Eg. François Gaspard 1676 marked FB), and before that by N. Jean Jaques De Lavigny (Eg. George Mennet, 1626), and before that by N. Jaques Ferlin and N. Nicolas and Emanuel Ferlin sons of the late N. André Ferlin his nephews (Eg. Jean Brisset, 1568), and before that by N. Jacob Ferlin and his wife Claudaz daughter of N. Guillaume Paccot of La Sarraz, universal heirs of N. Angelin de Yens.
5. That from Romainmotier, which came under the Chateau of Aubonne by an exchange approved by Their Excellencies of Bern 17 jan 1743. Previously by the Noble Dames De Lavigny (Eg. François Gaspard Bolens 1676, marked BQ ?), and before that by Noble Jean Jaques de Lavigny (Eg. George Mennet 1626), and before that by the Ferlins as above, and before that by Jacob Ferlin etc. as above (Eg. Pierre Cuinssins, 1515).
